You're a Germ-Fighting

Copyright © 2020 by Shannon Jade Burns, Wildflower Books.

All rights reserved. No portion of this book, except brief quotes used in review, advertisement, or education, may be reproduced or used without the written permission of the publisher.

Printed in Australia

Please direct all queries to wildflowerbookspublishing@gmail.com

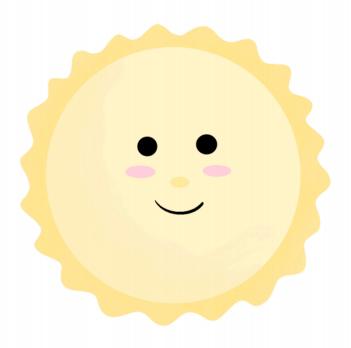

WWW.WILDFLOWERBOOKS.NET

To all our germfighting readers People are scared. Germs are in the air.

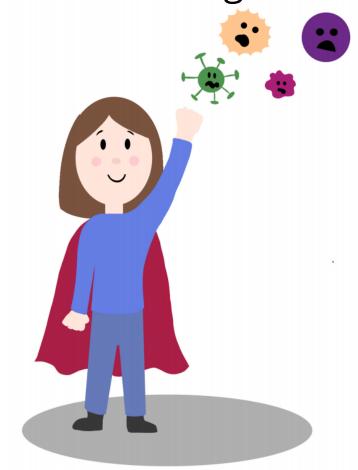

They're starting to make people sick.

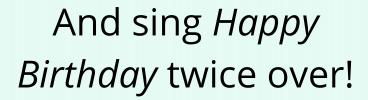

It's up to germ fighters to learn virus-vanishing tricks.

But things can be brighter!

Don't worry there's hope!

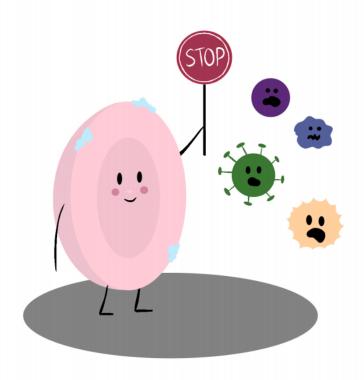

Wash your hands with soap!

Germ fighters cheer loudly.

"It works!" they shout proudly.

"The germs can't get any closer."

But people get ill, even now, even still.

Germ fighters step up to the task.

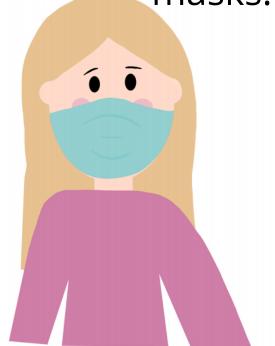

They catch coughs with their elbows...

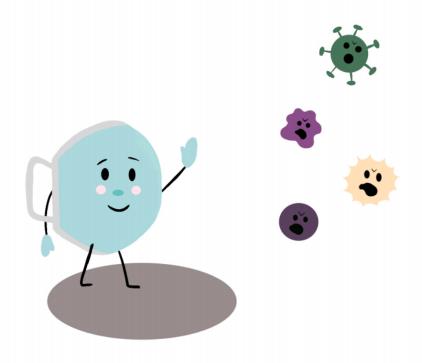

...and become cleaning pros...

...and give people germ-fighting masks.

"It's working!" they shout.

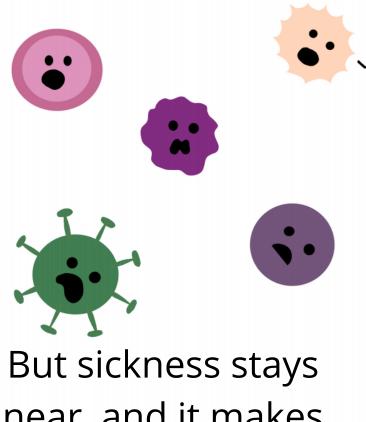

Now people will stay safe and well.

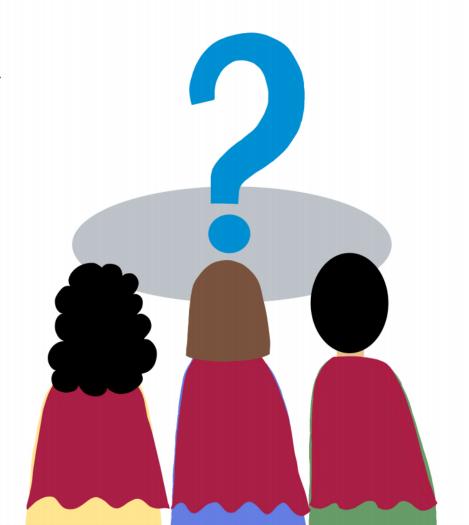

"They're keeping germs out!"

"What next?" the germ fighters yell.

near, and it makes people fear.

"It's time to make spaces, to leave empty places!" "Let's start making social distance!"

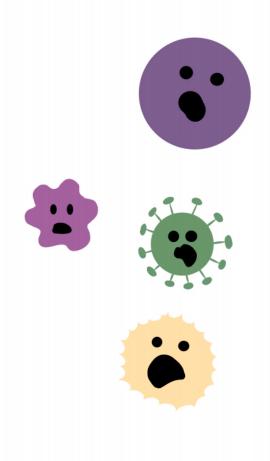

"Let's all be brave and say hi with a wave!" "It's the best virus resistance!"

People try their best but still feel quite stressed.

Germ fighters are at their wits' end.

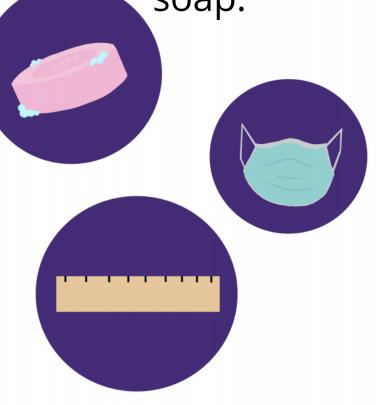

You know who they need to follow their lead?

All of their germfighting friends!

Wash your hands with soap.

Wear your mask, and have hope!

Smile and politely step back.

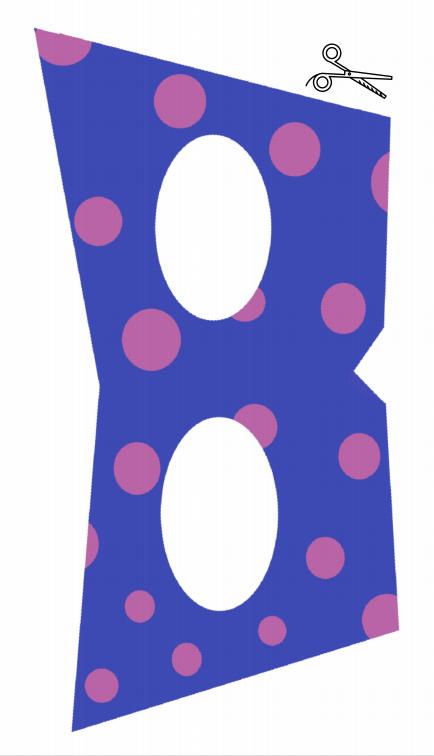

It's people like you, who know what to do,

who stop virus germs in their tracks!

Thank you for caring and virus preparing.

You're a new germfighting hero!

Ask a parent to help you print and cut out your germ fighter mask!